

Confidentiality & Retainer

If you are not a current client of Bereskin & Parr LLP, please do not provide us with information that you or someone else considers confidential. You do not become a client of the firm until the firm agrees to act for you and confirms representation in writing. Until that time what you provide to us cannot be protected from disclosure.